

PAUL AUSTER
NARRATIVE AND THOUGHT
FROM A DUAL CONSCIOUSNESS
THE EARLY FICTION

JAIME BECERRA DA COSTA

LABIRINTO

CONTENTS

Introduction	11
Historical overview of the term Postmodernism	15
Part I: Defining Postmodernism	21
A Concept Defying Definition	21
Part II: On Reading and Writing	61
Reading Cities: Detecting the Riddle	61
Questions of Detection	70
Narrative Mystery	72
Postmodern Fictions	78
Myths Past and Myths Present	82
Speaking in Metaphors	85
Storytelling, a Language of Inter-action	88
Part III: Labyrinthine Quests	91
Identity and Difference	91
Non-disruptiveness	101
It Was and It Was Not	109
Labyrinthine Quest, A Point of Nowhere	114
Cognitive Wanderings	119
Narrative Knowledge	125

Cognitive Focus	128
Labyrinthine Authority	133
Filling the Gap	136
Quest for Unity	146
Playing with Identity	149
Memory Subverted	160
Suspension of Reference	169
Part IV: 4The Return of Representation	171
Engagement with the World	171
Fiction and Reality	194
Semiotical Realities	204
The World is in My Head	210
Porous Borders	220
The Gap Once Again	232
Reality in the Womb of Time	237
Reality is Fiction, Fiction Reality	240
Metaphorical Weight	245
Tension with the Rules	254
Metaphorical Tension	267
Narrative Truth Claims	274
Beyond the Literary	277
Constructedness in Fiction and Reality	284
The World as a Writer	288
The Question of Borderlines	299
Time Rules	307
Conclusion	319
Bibliography	327
Webography	335
Index Rerum	337